From: GOVERNING Daily
To: Carlton, M.Catherine
Subject: Amid Shutdown Talk, States and Cities Seek Clues to the Future
Date: Wednesday, April 26, 2017 6:26:18 AM

View Newsletter in Browser

Today's Government News

Subscribe to Governing Magazine & Newsletters
Follow us on Facebook / Twitter / LinkedIn

FEATURED STORY FOR APRIL 26, 2017

Amid Shutdown Talk, States and Cities Seek Clues to the Future

Whether and how Congress passes a budget this week could indicate what's to come when negotiations start for the next year, which will be the first full budget under President Trump.

ADVERTISEMENT

Sponsor: OpenGov

LATEST GOVERNING NEWS & COMMENTARY

POLITICS

Let Me Take a Selfie: The Art of Balancing Politicians' Time With Never-Ending Photo Requests

All those snaps can take a lot of time out of an elected official's busy schedule.

SMART MANAGEMENT

The Urgent Need for Intergovernmental Dialogue

Progress on priority issues like health care and retirement security requires coordinated strategies.

LATEST WEB HEADLINES

HEALTH & HUMAN SERVICES

- Pre-Obamacare, Preexisting Conditions Plagued States and Insurers
- Arizona Provides Consumers Relief From Surprise Medical Bills

INFRASTRUCTURE & ENVIRONMENT

- After Contaminating the Water Supply Near a Base, Air Force Refuses to Follow Michigan Law

MANAGEMENT & LABOR

- California Bill Would Blacklist Contractors Who Build Trump's Border Wall

PUBLIC SAFETY & JUSTICE

- Judge Blocks Trump's Order to Defund Immigrant Sanctuaries

EDUCATION

- Universities Given Freedom From Some Oversight in West Virginia

NEWS IN NUMBERS

16,545

Women who have formally expressed interest in running for public office since November through two different organizations that help close the gender gap in politics.

MORE

WHO SAID THAT?

"The way some of these candidates were behaving ... left me feeling that we should all have been ashamed of ourselves. As I exited the presidential stage, it was unthinkable."

MORE

Unsubscribe | Opt out of all e.Republic email | Privacy Statement
© 2017 e.Republic. All rights reserved. 100 Blue Ravine Road, Folsom, CA 95630. Phone: 916-932-1300